A Great Service

THE SUBJECT was "Books."

The place was the Bulloch County Regional Library.

The people were staff members and trustees of libraries from Savannah, Augusta, Statesboro, Claxton, Swainsboro, Metter, Hinesville, Claxton, Waynesboro, and Reidsville.

They met here with members of the state library authorities to study library and book problems.

Jim Jordan, principal of the Screven County High School, acted as chairman and directed the discussion following a dinner at the country club.

These people want every citizen in every community in this district to know that the library belongs to the community. That its services are directed to the needs and desires of the communities it serves.

They discussed ways and means of enlarging the services of libraries, of making known to the public the services available and to fulfill to the utmost the responsibilities of public libraries.

We here in Statesboro and Bulloch county have reason to be proud of the Bulloch County Regional Library, serving Bulloch and Byram counties.

It is doing a great good. With its bookmobile, books are being put into the hands of individuals and groups all over the two counties. Its services cannot be estimated in dollars and cents. It fills a need no other medium could effect.

The library on South Main street is a credit to our community and its part in the community life cannot be pinpointed in dollars and cents.

The people at the library meeting here last week report that the libraries in their communities are doing the same wonderful work as the one here.

Growth is steady. Its influence is spreading.

Remember the Bulloch County Regional Library is our library and use it for all its worth.

You live a fuller life because of it.

Congratulations, Grads!

AND SO YOU are a graduate of the Class of 1952?

And you are engulfed in aura of sentiment. Recollections of wonderful times you experienced during the four years you were in college or high school fill your melancholy moments.

You see your classmates in a brand new light and you feel a closer bond to them than at any time during your school career.

You really get the feeling that you are standing on the threshold of a great new future.

And so you are.

Some of you will go on to places of higher learning.

Some of you will get married.

Some of you will enter industry, business.

Some of you will seek your future in the soil.

Some of you will become teachers.

Some of you will find service in the armed forces mixed up in your future.

All of you, high school graduates, college graduates, will find that you are entering into a life that is difficult to reason out.

You will not find the security, the gaiety, the irresponsibility that characterized your school years. There will be struggle and toil.

Yet you will find a great future ahead because you are Georgians, you are Americans.

You will find fault, you will complain, you will blow your top over taxes, government controls, corruption in high and low places.

But we believe that these things will prove a challenge to you.

Changes will come in your lifetime. Advancement in science, industry, business will come fast. You will marvel at it and keep step with it.

We believe that you have a bright future. Some of you will be content with things as they are, while others of you will constantly promote progress.

Congratulations to you.

You are our future leaders, you and your kind all over this nation. Meet the challenges. With what you have learned under the direction of your teachers you are equipped, each according to your capacity, and with the help and guidance of your Divine Father nothing can stop you.

Congratulations to you, the Class of 1952.

Russell and the New South

IN RECENT MONTHS, we've been reading more and more about the great growth of the South—growth in industry, agriculture, business education.

Such publications as Fortune magazine, Time magazine, the Saturday Evening Post, have all carried articles describing the New South. Those articles are not just publicity put out by the South, but are factual reports of what is happening.

No one in the North or East or West or South has questioned reports of the South's growth.

Why, then, should anyone question the candidacy of Sen. Richard B. Russell, simply because he is from the South?

Two large newspapers in Southern cities have said, "We know Senator Russell is the best qualified candidate, but he's from the South and we don't think he can be elected." One of these newspapers is in Tennessee, and is supporting the candidacy of Senator Kefauver. We can't understand how it expects Kefauver can be elected but Russell can't when they're from adjoining Southern states.

Some papers, too, proclaim they are for Russell, but their pages do not bear them out. For instance, why give unusual prominence to a speech in Florida in behalf of Kefauver by Senator Douglas of Illinois, and bury the story on a speech by Senator Russell on an inside page?

Consider the facts. Actually, because Russell is from the South he has a better chance of being elected than any other candidate so far. By the time of the Democratic convention, Russell will have the pledged support of every Southern state with the possible exception of Tennessee. He will carry some Tennessee delegates—perhaps even all.

Russell may not have a majority of delegates at the convention. But Russell will have pledged by then the electoral votes of 13 Southern states with 148 electors.

"Party leaders like to win elections," Senator Russell points out, "and they are about to realize that if I am the nominee it will only be necessary to obtain an additional 118 electoral votes from the other 35 states to win in the November election. We can win many more than that number."

Why be ashamed of Southern heritage? Russell is not.

"Thinking people everywhere know that a good Southerner is a better American because of his pride in the South, just as a good New Englander, or a good Westerner, is a better American because of his pride in New England or the West," he said. "I am proud of my Southern heritage. I am proud that I can come from Georgia—Rome News-Tribune.

He's Still An American

WE, WHO WOULD LIKE very much to see our Dick Russell nominated and elected president of the United States, have been trying to erase the sectional label that has been tied to him by those who can't see him as a citizen of the United States.

We noticed a large sign in the lobby of the local movie which reads "Elected Dick Russell President." That's fine.

But a pair of Confederate flags are crossed over it.

That's not good.

See what it does?

We're tying him to a section—the South.

There's more to it than just being from the South. He's a southerner, and proud of it.

But he's also an American.

Let's not forget that!

Jesup For Home Rule

CITIZENS OF JESUP voted May 8 seven-to-one in favor of adopting home rule.

The majority of voters also indicated in the ballots preference for framing a new charter and elected a seven-man commission.

The outcome of the postponed election makes Jesup the fifteenth city in Georgia to make use of the law which makes home rule possible.

A New Wreath for an Old Memorial

Editor's Uneasy Chair

THIS WEEK our Uneasy Chair belongs to the farmer. Mrs. Cecil Kennedy contributed the following. We believe it worthy of passing on to all our readers.

"A FARMER"

"A farmer is a man who starts out with nothing, loses on everything he grows and comes out even at the end of the year. No body knows how he does it. He doesn't even know himself."

"Anyone looking over his farm would think the smartest man in the world would starve trying to tend it. That would be right. The smartest man would starve, but not the farmer. His wife wouldn't let him starve. She has one basic menu, she serves whatever she has. In good years she serves half a dozen vegetables at a meal; in lean years she jumps from poke salad to black-eyed peas."

"A real farmer can shape an axe handle from a peachwood stump and put it in with a duck pocket knife. He has a serviceable set of harness fashioned from his wife, feed sacks, and a few scraps of leather. He grows corn for the squirrels so the city sportsman may have something to shoot at in the season."

"He is the world's greatest optimist. He believes that the face he has come this far is proof he can continue to the end. He has lost years' disappointments with the seasons."

Pantie Raids Hit Headlines

By VIRGINIA RUSSELL

Pantie parades, and pantie raids, are hitting the headlines in the papers today. The space they take on the front page sometimes causes the war in Korea to appear secondary and pushes the political news into the back pages.

The prominence that these antics are getting is unfortunate in that they probably represent a minority of the student body. But in the discussions that follow these raids, many people seem to forget the majority who would not be a part of such childish pranks.

The psychologists here and who have been quoted in their explanation of these outbreaks. One psychologist believes, according to newspaper reports, that it is the cave man's instinct for getting a mate, showing up in civilized youth. College authorities also have been quoted. One college paper has labeled the whole business "primal." Someone else has said that it is a by-product of the advertising scheme.

Actually, the real concern in the whole matter seems to me to be the fact that some young people (old ones, too, maybe) don't know how to get along with their fellows. This, alone, is a reason for alarm. Hitler was able to do wonders in a wrong way with young people who didn't know how to think for themselves.

Whether we parents are to blame for this, or whether the young people are to blame, I don't know. But in this modern day of child psychologists and the like, it seems that maybe we parents are the ones who have swallowed the hook.

One of the theories that has been promoted in the past few years is that we parents' minds make our children different. To be different, we are told, will give children all sorts of complexes. So to avoid such casualties, parents must see that Susie's hair is cut just like all the other girls' hair.

The dresses must hang exactly the same distance from the floor. If sloppy sweaters are the rage, the children must have them.

Why parents ever evoked this psychological pill is beyond me. For every one of us knows the tractor and plow are allies. And the sooner the child discovers this fact for himself the better off everybody concerned will be.

Again, we parents are possibly to blame in that we give our children everything they wish for. In doing so we kill their initiative to do constructive, unselfish, worthwhile projects, and in doing so we make life so easy and unchallenging.

We parents strive to make our dears conform to the pattern in which we live. We try to see our children capitalize on their differences. Human assembly lines fail to strengthen individual traits.

Let's teach them to dare to be different, in a constructive and on-nobling manner. Let's teach them to overcome the fear of being different. Then, perhaps, they'll learn to think for themselves.

Date a psychologist to say a word, I say!

Music Club Holds Final Meeting

The Statesboro Music Club met for their final meeting of the year on Tuesday evening, May 20, at the home of Mrs. E. L. Barnes on Savannah avenue. Officers for the 1952-53 year were elected and installed. The new officers are: Mrs. Percy Averitt, president; Mrs. Curtis Lane, first vice president; Mrs. Dana King, second vice president; Mrs. C. B. Mathews, third vice president; Mrs. Jack W. Broucek, secretary; and Mrs. John Jackson Jr., treasurer. Mrs. Sidney Dool conducted the installation ceremony.

It was announced that Miss Anne Trawick Trice, a senior in the division of music at Georgia Teachers College, had been the recipient of the Statesboro Music Club Award, given for outstanding service in the field of music. A similar award is to be given to a Statesboro High School student and the recipient will be announced later.

Miss Nana Hodges was program chairman for this meeting, which presented outstanding student talent from Statesboro, Middleburg and Portia. Those students performing were: Amelia Brown, Carey Donaldson, June Iler, Mary Weldon Hendrix, William Russell, B. Carroll, Bob Brannen, Nicky Brown, Smiles Bitch, Betty Johnson, Shirley Johnson, Jane Morris, Linda Bean, Jimmy Bland, Geraldine Lane, and Evelyn Jones, all from Statesboro; James Hathcock, Edmund Rocker, I. W. Spence, and Bobby Joe Cowart from Portia; and Martha Sue Smith from Middleburg.

After the program, Mrs. Barnes and the co-hostesses, Mrs. John Jackson Jr., Mrs. Frank Mikel, Mrs. C. B. Mathews, Mrs. J. G. Moore and Miss Ninette Sturges, served a delightful ice course during the social hour.

CONCERT A TRIUMPH FOR ANNE TRICE, BILL FOX

"You can't Go Home Again" is not applicable to Anne Trice, soprano, who with Bill Fox, baritone, was presented in concert in concert in Anne's hometown of Greenville, S. C., on Tuesday night. The concert was given Sunday afternoon in the recreation room of the Methodist Church and was sponsored by the Greenville Music Club. Our musicians were thrilled that a very expensive piano was sent from a dealer in Montgomery for use in the concert.

Dr. Neal, Miss Mamie Veazey, Anne and Bill left Statesboro early Saturday morning and arrived in Greenville in time for a lovely buffet supper with turkey and all the delicious food we think of when we talk "turkey." The supper was given in their honor by Anne's mother, Mrs. Ann Trice, and her aunt, Mrs. Malone. Twenty-five of their friends were invited.

Sunday morning Bill Fox was guest soloist at the Methodist Church while Anne was guest soloist at the Baptist Church.

The concert began at 3:30 and, according to Miss Veazey, neither of the vocalists had ever been better. Miss Veazey added that Dr. Neal made a hit with the audience because of the pleasing manner in presenting his pupils, and the interpretations of the numbers they sang.

The stars left Alabama early Monday. Enroute to Statesboro they stopped in another Alabama town where another of Anne's aunts lived. This one Mrs. Bob Dixon. Here they found the old Colonial Southern home with towering oaks and an out-of-this-world garden. If Anne's aunts had held out, the musicians would probably be traveling yet.

Miss Veazey, nurse director, and Anne Trice, president of Lewis Hall, had supper up town together Tuesday evening with nine other seniors from Lewis Hall.

NEW OFFICERS ELECTED

Mrs. Earl Lester gave the report of the nominating committee as follows: Mrs. J. B. Brannen Jr., president; Mrs. E. Williams, vice president; Mrs. J. E. Rowland, Jr., secretary; Mrs. Dan Lee, treasurer; Mrs. B. E. Turner, reporter. These officers were elected by the group.

Mrs. Cecil Canister, county recreation leader, read a letter concerning the trip to Daytona this summer. The only dates open are July 18-20, August 5-11, and August 28-31. The rates for this trip are $13 for the first and last dates and $17 for the second date. Either of these dates requires a minimum of 35 in attendance. There were so few who could be sure about going that nothing was decided upon.

CONVENTION DELEGATES

Mrs. Brannen appointed delegates to the convention in Athens, June 9-13, as follows: Song leader, Mrs. Cecil Canister; dress review, Mrs. Orla Groover; and two voting delegates, Mrs. J. E. Rowland Jr., and one other to volunteer later.

The highlight of the meeting was the annual Dress Review, in charge of Mrs. Dorothy Whitehead, assistant home demonstration agent. Winners were: 1st, Mrs. Orla Groover, Warnock club; 2nd, Mrs. J. B. Brannen Jr. Ogeechee club; and 3rd, Mrs. Ralph Moore, Warnock club. Mrs. Penon Rimes presented the prizes donated by H. Minkovitz & Sons.

CONTEST WINNERS

Winners in the pre-school contest were: 1st, Lillian Ann Smith, West Side club; 2nd, Sharon Lee, Ogeechee club. Mrs. Whitehead presented these prizes which were donated by H. Minkovitz & Sons.

Mrs. Dan Lee then introduced the entrants in the Farm Bureau talent contest as follows: Linda Nesmith, West Side; Louis Hendrix, Brooklet; Nicky and Terry Ansley, Denmark; Doug Carter, Middleburg; Melba Creasy, Nevils; Carol Grover, Warnock; Carol Grover, Warnock; and Mrs. Dan Lee. The winner in this contest was Louis Hendrix. Douglas Carter was second place winner. Each was presented a gift from the Farm Bureau.

4-H TEAMS WINS JUDGING

More than 30-4-H judging teams participated in the sixth annual dairy day at the University of Georgia May 10. In competition with F.F.A. and 4-H teams, the Elbert county 4-H group, made up of Johnny Dye, Horace Scarborough and Harold Dye, topped the team championship by scoring 825 points out of a possible 900. Scarborough made a perfect score—300 points—on the three classes of animals. County Agent Tom Hodges coached the Elbert team.

QUEEN CONTEST

Mrs. Lee next introduced the entrants in the Queen contest: Ann Cason, West Side; Martha Edfield, Stillson; Marjorie Floyd, Brooklet; Janice Miller, Denmark; Jan Brown, Brooklet; Billie Jane Foss, Warnock; Marie Roberts, Nevils; Shirley Akins, Middleburg. The winner in this contest was Ann Cason, with Billie Jane Foss the runner-up. Mr. Byron Dyer, county agent, presented Ann a gift from the Farm Bureau.

The stage was beautifully decorated with flowers grown by Mrs. Arthur Brannen of the Jimp club. She was assisted by Mrs. Emil Scott. After refreshments were served by the Jimp club, a tour was made of the Willie Zetterower home near Ogeechee school. The home has recently been remodeled.

A HAPPY PURINA USER

The photograph shows Mrs. W. Erastus Deal of RFD 4, Statesboro, with her 599 Parmenter Red Pullets. Seven weeks ago she started with 640. The average weight at the time of the photograph was 1.65 pounds. There are few undersized pullets. She states that the pullets were raised on the "Purina Program."

It's a Good Program—the Purina Program. You, too, can get best results on the Purina Program for your poultry and livestock.

MOOSE MEMBERS

At Convention
The Loyal Order of Moose Georgia-Alabama convention was held in Savannah May 23, 24 and 25. Those attending the banquet and dance from Statesboro Lodge No. 1088 were Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Pruitt, Mr. and Mrs. Durwood Manly, Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Rockett and Mr. and Mrs. Emmet Scott.

Mr. Manly received his Legion Degree Sunday along with other members from all over the states of Georgia and Alabama. All Moose that would like to take this degree in Macon June 21 and 22 contact H. D. Manly.

On Thursday, May 29, there will be a Bingo game at the Moose Lodge and all members and wives are asked to be there. All members may bring along a guest if they desire to do so.

The trip to Macon has been set on Sunday, June 29, at 7 o'clock and will return the same day. A Greyhound Bus is to be chartered and the round trip fare will be only $4.82 per person. Any members or wives desiring to take this trip contact H. D. Manly. As there can only be seating capacity for 50 people, he requests that you make your reservation early.
